2012 FIM License, Start Permission and Insurance Requirements

License Requirements for United States Participants

- FIM World Championship events require an FIM license whether they are held within the United States or in a foreign country. This includes FIM events in which participants are eligible to set an FIM World Record.
- FIM International events held outside the United States (with the exception of Canada) require an FIM license.
- FIM International events held in Canada do not require an FIM license if sanctioned by FIM North America.
- FIM International events held within the United States do not require and FIM license.
- FIM licenses are issued either as one event or annual. Issuance of an FIM license requires AMA membership.

Insurance Requirements for United States Participants

- Insurance coverage to FIM Standards is required for all FIM World Championship events, FIM World Record events and any FIM event held outside the United States (with the exception of Canada). Insurance must be in place prior to the issuance of start permission. Insurance can be purchased from the AMA on a per event basis at a cost of $125.00.

Start Permission Requirements for United States Participants

- Start permission is required for FIM license holders who plan to race outside the United States. The start permission document certifies the participant is in good standing with the AMA and has the required FIM insurance coverage. The start permission document will be provided to the FIM federation, promoter and the participant.
- To request Start Permission: Rider must contact AMA Racing at least two weeks prior to the event and provide the Date, Location, Title and IMN number of event (FIM assigned number).
- Start Permission is the sole responsibility of the participant and failure to comply with this requirement will result in penalties.

Licensing Procedures for United States Participants

- CANADIAN residents must purchase the FIM license through the CMA. Canadians do not need an FIM license to participate in International events held in the U.S, however, they must have a current AMA membership unless the event is NAMU sanctioned.
- License fees are available on request.
- Return the following completed forms along with insurance and licensing fees:
  1. FIM License Application
  2. Medical History Form
  3. Adult Release and Waiver of Liability and Indemnity Agreement
  4. Appendix 2 - Acknowledgment and Agreement (Page 50 of the 2010 FIM Anti-Doping Code)
- These forms and additional information can be found at:
